THE UNIVERSITY MACE AND BATONS

The mace and batons are symbols of the authority and history of the University and are made from balusters from the original main staircase of Old Main, erected in 1875, the oldest University building now standing. The batons are carried by members of the faculty who are serving as marshals.

MARSHALS' GOWNS

The gowns worn by the marshals are of the traditional University color, cardinal red.

HONOR STOLES

White or cardinal stoles denote students who are candidates for University Honors. Cardinal represents Honors (cum laude) and white represents High Honors (magna cum laude). White stoles with cardinal and white cords represent Highest Honors (summa cum laude).

THE UNIVERSITY SONG

In 1909 a prize of fifty dollars was offered for the best poem relating to the University of Arkansas that should be capable of being set to music and used as a college song. Out of many entries, that of Mr. Brodie Payne, 1906, of Hot Springs won the prize. The words were set to music by Professor H. D. Tovey, Director of the Conservatory of Music and Art at the University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The styles of gowns differentiate degree level. Trim of doctoral gowns indicates nature of degree (black or royal blue — Ph.D.; light blue — Ed.D.). Certain members of the faculty wear distinctive gowns and hoods authorized by their doctoral institutions. The lining of the hood denotes the color(s) of the institution awarding the degree. The official colors of the University of Arkansas are cardinal and white.

The color of the velvet band around the hood designates the academic degree of the wearer. Some examples are listed below:

Agriculture	Maize	Fine Arts	Dark Brown	Medicine	Green	Public Health.....	Salmon Pink
Architecture.....	Blue Violet	Forestry	Russett	Music.....	Pink	Science	Gold
Arts And Letters	White	Human Envi. Sci.....	Maroon	Nursing.....	Apricot	Social Science	Cream
Business And Bus. Admin.....	Drab	Humanities.....	Crimson	Pharmacy.....	Solid Green	Social Work	Citron
Economics.....	Copper	Journalism.....	Crimson	Philosophy	Royal Blue	Speech.....	Silvery Gray
Education	Light Blue	Law	Purple	Physical Education	Sage Green	Theology.....	Scarlet
Engineering	Orange	Library Science.....	Lemon Yellow	Public Admin.....	Peacock Blue	Veterinary Science.....	Gray

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The Seal of the University of Arkansas is affixed to each diploma and is stamped in gold on each diploma cover. The central element in the Seal is the front entrance to Old Main, the oldest building on campus.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Dr. Sherece West-Scantlebury

Sherece West-Scantlebury has served for ten years as president and CEO of the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation, a private, independent foundation whose mission is to improve the lives of all Arkansans in three interrelated areas: economic development; education; and economic, racial, and social justice.

West-Scantlebury grew up in inner-city Baltimore and is the first in her family to attend college. She earned a bachelor's degree from Bowie State University in Maryland; a master's in public policy from the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; and a doctorate in public policy from the University of Maryland, Baltimore.

Her professional career includes nearly 30 years of experience in community development, public policy and advocacy, and public service. She has a 25 year career in philanthropy, including work with the Annie E. Casey Foundation, and service as CEO of the Foundation for Louisiana before joining the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation. She has said her life experience drives her passion for work, such as philanthropy, that makes a meaningful difference and supports communities to thrive.

"Philanthropy chose me, for which I am grateful, because I did not have professional goals," she said. "I have a mission and vision to use my time, talent and treasure to transform vulnerable communities into healthy, vibrant communities. I am willing to do that in any capacity. Philanthropy is my current path."

Under West-Scantlebury's leadership the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation has invested over 40 million dollars in Arkansas and its communities, including the University of Arkansas.

"The University of Arkansas' eight guiding priorities are in full alignment with the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation's mission and my own vision and service to Arkansas," she said.

West-Scantlebury's work has been recognized with a variety of honors including the 2013 Woman of Influence Award from the Arkansas Business Journal; the 2015 Humanitarian Award from Just Communities of Arkansas; and the 2017-2018 Rockwood Leadership Institute's "National Leading from the Inside Out Yearlong Fellowship."

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

*Wallace and Jama
Fowler*

Wallace and Jama Fowler have used their successful partnership to improve Arkansas communities and support the University of Arkansas, Arkansas State University, their hometown of Jonesboro and people in need across Arkansas.

The couple started out in separate parts of the state: Wallace Fowler grew up in Manila, in northeast Arkansas, the son of the local school superintendent; Jama Massey was born in Amity, in the southwest part of the state, and her father was in the timber business. They were introduced while Wallace was serving in the Army, stationed in Fort Smith: his brother suggested he meet Jama Massey. Fowler ranks it as the best advice he's ever gotten.

The couple married in 1955 and have remained partners in life, family, business and community service. They have three sons, twelve grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

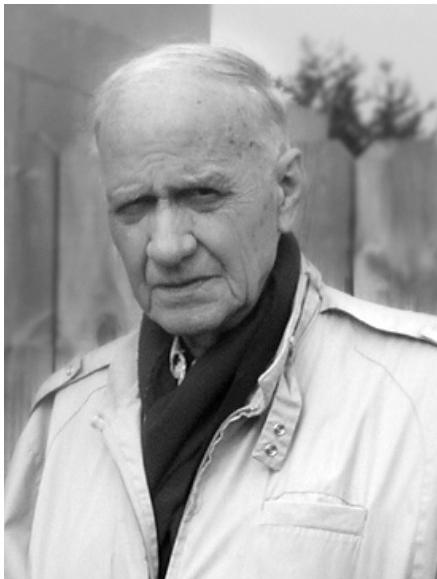

Wallace Fowler built three successful business careers – in retail furniture, fast food franchises and banking -- each career based in Jonesboro, each more successful than the last and each with Jama very much involved. They capped these careers off by launching the Bank of Jonesboro, then growing and expanding it into the state-wide Liberty Bank system.

Fowler has said his success is the result of hiring the right people and having good partners – especially Jama.

The Fowlers made time for public service throughout their lives, Wallace serving on state and city commissions, Jama's concern for public health issues leading to creation of the Wallace and Jama Fowler Charitable Foundation to support hospitals and health care facilities.

The Fowler's other philanthropic efforts include a $5 million gift to Arkansas State University to complete the Fowler Center for the performing arts and a $5 million gift to the NEA Baptist Charitable Foundation to complete the Fowler Family Center for Cancer Care. They both served on the University of Arkansas Campaign for the Twenty-First Century steering committee, and they hold similar positions in Campaign Arkansas. They have donated a total of $4.68 million towards construction of the U of A chancellor's residence, the Wallace and Jama Fowler House, Garden and Conservatory. Other major U of A gifts include $2.5 million for the Fowler Family Baseball and Track Training Center and $1 million to name the Don and Ellen Edmondson Legacy Studio in Vol Walker Hall to honor their long-time friends. In 2013 Wallace and Jama Fowler received Chancellor's Medals for their outstanding leadership and commitment to higher education at the University of Arkansas.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Charles McColl Portis

Charles Portis is an author, journalist and University of Arkansas graduate. He's best known for his second novel, True Grit (1968), a best seller that has been made into popular movies twice. His other four novels, Norwood (1966), Dog of the South (1979), Masters of Atlantis (1985) and Gringos (1991) were not as commercially successful but have been praised by critics and loyal readers as "comic masterpieces."

Portis was born in El Dorado and grew up in small south Arkansas towns, graduating from high school in Hamburg. He joined the Marines and served in the infantry during the Korean War, earning the rank of sergeant. After his discharge he enrolled at the University of Arkansas as a journalism major.

"You had to choose a major, so I put down journalism" he later explained. "I must have thought it would be fun and not very hard, something like barber college — not to offend the barbers. They probably provide a more useful service."

Portis wrote for the Arkansas Traveler and the Northwest Arkansas Times while still a student. He worked briefly for the Memphis Commercial Appeal, then almost two years as a reporter at the Arkansas Gazette. He spent three years at the New York Herald Tribune, often covering the civil rights struggle in the South, then served one year as the paper's London bureau chief. In 1964 he returned to Little Rock to write novels.

Portis currently lives in Little Rock, although he spent much of his career traveling and writing in Mexico. He has gained a degree of fame for his ability to avoid being famous – primarily by politely declining to do interviews with reporters.

Escape Velocity: A Charles Portis Miscellany (2012) was published by Butler Center Books and includes memoirs, a stage play and an assortment of short fiction, nonfiction, and articles from his newspaper career.

In 2010, Portis received the Oxford American's first Lifetime Achievement in Southern Literature award. The Porter Prize, for outstanding Arkansas writers, awarded its 30th Anniversary Lifetime Achievement Award to Portis in 2014. He was inducted into the U of A's Lemke Journalism Hall of Fame in 2016.

The University community wishes to express its appreciation for the assistance of all people who helped make the 2018 University of Arkansas Spring Commencement ceremony a success.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Theresa Fette

Theresa Fette (B.S.B.A. '00, M.Acc. '00, J.D. '03) is a founder and CEO of Provident Trust Group, a leading self-directed retirement plan administrator and alternative-asset custodian, which she grew into the largest independent trust company in Nevada. She has created exponential growth in Provident's 10-year history, increasing its assets under custody from $300 million to more than $4.5 billion. She also owns and operates Keystone Acquisition, a licensed broker-dealer that specializes in trading and execution services and other financial management solutions.

Her strong, effective leadership and background in building relationships among fellow executives have been acknowledged by the Las Vegas Review-Journal, which named her 2012 "Entrepreneur of the Year." Her unique managerial and entrepreneurial style was recognized by Fortune magazine, which honored her among its "10 Most Powerful Women Entrepreneurs" for 2012.

She is known as a leader who uses company culture to drive performance, success and delivery of customer commitments, as noted by The Trust Advisor, which named Provident "America's Best IRA Custodian" for 2015, 2016 and 2017. The publication also listed the company among the Most Advisor-Friendly Trust Companies for five consecutive years. Provident was twice selected by the Southern Nevada HR Association among its Best Places to Work in Southern Nevada.

Fette motivates, leads and inspires teams to be customer-focused and performance-driven to achieve exceptional results, earning her honors such as M & A Advisors' 2010 "Top 40 under 40 M & A Advisors" and *Vegas Inc.'*s 2015 "40 Under 40."

She holds a Master of Laws in taxation from the University of Missouri - Kansas City and is a three-time graduate of the University of Arkansas with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and a Master of Accountancy from the Sam M. Walton College of Business and a Juris Doctor from the School of Law.

Fette remains closely tied to her alma mater and was given the University of Arkansas "Young Alumni of the Year Award" in 2017 and the "Gayle Pettus Pontz Award" in 2015.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD

Corrin Troutman
2018 Outstanding Alumna Award

Corrin Troutman grew up playing in her grandfather's apple orchard, and learning about gardening and native plants from him. That interest eventually led to a bachelor's degree in horticulture, landscape and turf sciences from Bumpers College in 2001.

She began her professional career as a garden sales representative at Home Depot in Garland, Texas, and moved to Color Spot Nursery as the North East Texas sales representative where she improved sales 60 percent in a year. She returned to Northwest Arkansas soon after as a horticulturalist with the Peel Compton Foundation, and quickly moved up the ranks to foundation horticulturalist, site manager and leader of the organization as executive director.

At Peel Compton, Troutman developed garden maintenance programs, expanded plant collections, managed garden crew and master gardener volunteers, and developed native plant training programs for Master Gardeners. She also trained volunteer tour guides at both Compton Gardens and the Peel Mansion gardens, and grew the annual native plant sale fundraiser.

Troutman helped open Compton Gardens to the public and created a yearly program designed to expand Compton Gardens' native plant collection by adding three new specimens each year, eventually augmenting the Garden's collection by more than 30 species. In 2009, she initiated an advanced volunteer program, Neil's Naturals, to produce free educational brochures for Compton Gardens, and produced six native plant guides for the public still in use today.

Troutman is an Arkansas Certified Nursery and Landscape Professional, graduate of Leadership Benton County (Class of 2012), graduate of Inseitz Group Women's Personal Leadership Effectiveness Program (2017), and a member of the American Public Gardens Association and the American Association for State and Local History.

In 2010, Troutman began serving on the Benton County Extension Council and has served as horticulture chair. A member of the Bentonville Garden Club since 2007, she has served as chair for the horticulture and scholarship committees since 2008. She has also served as first vice president and is currently second vice president.

She has volunteered with Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA), is a founding board member of Using Art to Create a Better World and is a mentor volunteer for the Benton County Boys & Girls Club Teen Mentorship Program.

Troutman, who is currently pursuing independent consulting, is married to Ron, is step-mom to two daughters and mom to Albert and Willow, two rescued Weimaraners. She enjoys hiking, floating the Buffalo River, camping and other outdoor pursuits.

YOUNG ALUMNI AWARD

Olivera Jankovska 2018 Young Alumna Award

Since earning her bachelor's degree from Bumpers College in agricultural business in 2009, Olivera Jankovska has continued to pursue education and service to others around the world through management and development opportunities.

Jankovska serves the world's largest humanitarian organization for children, UNICEF, as a UNICEF Global Citizenship Fellow. She uses community engagement to encourage transformational change in the lives of children around the world.

Jankovska works with faith-based organizations, academic communities, independent volunteers, political appointees and other advocates in providing education and resources on topics such as public health, immunizations and child-equality. She encourages local communities to take action for children, all in support of worldwide efforts for child empowerment.

She was inspired to serve UNICEF after benefitting from the organization as a child. Her father earned $3 a day in the years immediately following Macedonia's independence, and UNICEF provided school supplies to underprivileged children. By the age of seven, Jankovska was bailing hay, plowing fields, milking goats, weaving wool and selling milk. Those experiences turned into her passion to help others. Years later, a Peace Corps volunteer guided her toward scholarship opportunities, which led to her professional career of service and allowed her to put her younger brother and sister through college.

Jankovska has been recognized for her dedication as a Global Citizenship Fellow as well as additional efforts to further child education and empowerment in her community and worldwide. She received the UNICEF 2017 President's Volunteer Service Award, a national award recognizing outstanding volunteer service, for her contributions above and beyond contractual commitments and expectations.

Jankovska is also a nonresident scholar at Rice University where she contributes analysis on electricity and gas markets at the Baker Institute for Public Policy – Center for Energy Studies. She is also a manager at Essentia Advisory Partners where she conducts research and serves as a consultant on questions regarding energy policy, environmental regulations, and international trade and development. She uses her agricultural economics and agribusiness background to help inform others about international energy markets.

Jankovska is proficient in seven languages and is an avid traveler. She has more than 10 years of nonprofit experience, and her volunteer work extends to several cultural, educational and business organizations.

She has been named to the United Macedonian's Diaspora "40 under 40" list, is active in the Houston Arkansas Alumni Chapter, participates in "Helping Like a Hog" community service events, and earned a master's degree in agricultural and applied economics from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

FULBRIGHT STUDENT SPEAKER

Kassidy Joyner Fulbright College Student Speaker

Kassidy Joyner is a senior majoring in economics and minoring in Japanese. She began her studies at the University of Arkansas after graduating from Rogers Heritage High School in Rogers, Arkansas. She enrolled as a four-year honor student after becoming a recipient of the prestigious Sturgis Fellowship. She was also a National Merit Scholar and Governor's Distinguished Scholar.

Kassidy has shown a keen interest in the Japanese language during her studies at the U of A. She spent an entire year studying Japanese language and culture with the Shimane University's exchange program where she was completely immersed in the environment. As a result of her efforts she reached the highest proficiency level in the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test.

Kassidy has been actively involved as an interpreter and a conversation partner for international students at the U of A. She has also worked as a bilingual international recruiting intern for Activ8 Recruitment and Solutions in Atlanta, Georgia where she searched for qualified candidates and conducted interviews with the candidates. She also worked as a private English tutor for middle school students while in Matsue, Japan.

She plans to pursue a career in business analytics and business development while utilizing her language skills.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG ALUMNI AWARD

Gi-Yong (Win) Koo, an associate professor at Troy University who earned his doctoral degree from the University of Arkansas in Recreation and Sport Management with an emphasis in Sport Marketing and Statistics in 2013. While at Arkansas, he was awarded the Luther W. and Edna L. Estelle Scholarship, the Troy Hendricks Scholarship, the NCAA Graduate Student Research Grant, and the Doctoral Student of the Year from the Department of Health, Human Performance and Recreation. He also served as a senior graduate teaching assistant in the department. His academic career has focused on being an effective educator, providing services to the field of Sport Management, and being a productive scholar.

He has published 33 research articles, had a number of international academic presentations, and served as the Ph.D. in Sport Management program coordinator at Troy University. His effort and commitment to the program has resulted in an implementation of the hybrid Ph.D. program to align with the international focus of the university and recently produced the first graduate in the University's history to receive a doctor of philosophy degree.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD IN EDUCATION

Martha Louise Sandven, B.S., M.A., M.A.T., NBCT, dedicated her life to youth development and education after graduating from Northwestern University with a degree in Speech. She completed her first middle school internship at Haven Middle School in Evanston, Illinois. In 1995, she co-founded Chameleon Theatre Company, a non-profit arts and youth development agency in Kansas City Missouri with the mission to "teach skills for life, school, and work" through the visual and performing arts. For a decade, she worked with students of all ages, trained artist/educators, and implemented programs in schools and youth facilities throughout the Kansas City area. She lectured at the Kansas City Art Institute, teaching undergraduates how to collaborate with teachers and schools. She completed a Master's Degree at the University of Kansas, where her thesis focused on how to use educational theatre to affect positive social change among teenagers. In order to focus on literacy among middle school students specifically, she pursued her M.A.T. in Secondary English at the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville, studying effective use of readers' theatre in the classroom. Since 2008, Ms. Sandven has worked in and among the schools of Northwest Arkansas, starting programs like Page to Stage, to help students write and perform their own creations; she founded The Breakfast Club after-school art and drama program for youth at Ramay Junior High; she started the WONDERS of Reading! initiative to "create a culture of kindness, empathy, and literacy" among junior high students; and, most recently, she collaborated with the University of Arkansas to secure a federal grant implementing the National Writing Project's College, Career, and Community-Ready Writer's Program for High Need Schools at Ramay Junior High. In addition, and with the support of authors like Dorothy Pattison and Anna Myers, Ms. Sandven adapts children's books for junior high students to present at area elementary schools, where teenage cast members mentor young audiences. Sandven volunteers as a grant-writer to help other teachers raise funds and write grants. She has served as a mentor for first year teachers and pre-service teachers in the University of Arkansas' M.A.T. program. Recently, she earned her National Board Certification in Adolescent Literacy. Her recognitions include a Point of Light Award from President Bill Clinton, a Walton Family Foundation Quality of Life grant through the Fayetteville Public Education Foundation, a Secondary Mentor Teacher of the Year award from the University of Arkansas, an Above and Beyond Award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce and the Fayetteville Public Schools Board of Education, and Teacher of the Year Award by Ramay Junior High School.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD IN HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Patti Freemyer Martin, Ph.D., has been a champion for children at Arkansas Children's Hospital for over thirty years. In her current role as Director, Ambulatory Care Services, she provides leadership and programmatic direction for Audiology, Speech Pathology, Primary Care Services, Otolaryngology and Dermatology. She is an Adjunct Assistant Professor of Audiology in the College of Health Professions at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences and a Consultant for the National Center on Hearing Assessment and Management.

Dr. Martin's areas of interest include newborn screening, pediatric assessment and the influence of social determinants on health outcomes. Her passion about the many ways that families impact outcomes of children is reflected by ongoing grant-funded projects, frequent invited national presentations and multiple peer-reviewed publications. She is actively involved in Arkansas Children's focus on improving the patient and family experience, as well as initiatives to mentor and develop leaders across the organization.

Dr. Martin, originally from Helena, Arkansas, holds a Bachelor of Arts in Communication Disorders from the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville (1981) and a Master of Science in Audiology (1983) from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences/University of Arkansas-Little Rock. Her Ph.D. is from the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville (2006) in Public Policy with an emphasis on children with special health care needs.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Yvette Murphy-Erby
Vice Provost for Diversity and Inclusion

Dr. Yvette Murphy-Erby, a Professor of Social Work, is the Vice Provost for Diversity and Inclusion at the University of Arkansas. She has held other leadership roles within the university including Associate Dean in the J.

William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences, Director of the School of Social Work (twice), and Interim Director for the African and African American Studies Program.

Dr. Murphy-Erby is an accomplished scholar and leader/administrator and has extensive expertise in leading positive change in organizations, particularly in relation to addressing structural, institutional and systemic challenges to fostering diversity and inclusion and social and economic justice. Dr. Murphy-Erby has 15 years of scholarship focusing on marginalized and underserved populations.

Dr. Murphy-Erby received her B.A. from the University of North Carolina – Charlotte (1985), M.S.W. from UNC-Chapel Hill (1991) and Ph.D. from UNC-Greensboro (2004). She joined the University of Arkansas faculty in 2004 and worked for one year in 2008 as the senior program officer for the Duke Endowment, the 11th largest foundation in the world at the time.

In collaboration with colleagues, Dr. Murphy-Erby has received over $14 million in external funding awards. She has published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals and co-authored the first book on the intersectionality of race, class and gender published in her discipline. She has expertise in building teams and engaging communities. Dr. Murphy-Erby served six years on the Board of Directors for the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation. She has received numerous awards for her leadership, commitment to mentoring and her support of excellence. Recognizing the centrality and value of diversity and inclusion to the learning experiences, successful preparation, productivity and marketability of all students, Dr. Murphy-Erby has a passion for inclusive excellence and a long-standing and firm commitment to facilitating inclusion and diversity on our campus, across our state and beyond.

Fayetteville Jazz Collective

The Fayetteville Jazz Collective was founded in May, 2009, as a professional jazz orchestra comprised of musicians active in the Northwest Arkansas area. The FJC is an 18-piece group that seeks to preserve and enhance the big band tradition through education of young audiences, aspiring musicians, and the general public. It has performed the works of Duke Ellington, Billy Strayhorn, Thad Jones, Gil Evans, Oliver Nelson, Sammy Nestico, Frank Foster, Tito Puente, Gordon Goodwin, and many others. The FJC also provides an outlet for local composers and arrangers, such as James Greeson, Ben Harris, and Rick Salonen, the band's baritone saxophonist and "composer in residence." The FJC hopes to continue to enrich the cultural life of the greater Northwest Arkansas community through performances and outreach. Contact information is available on their website at www.fayettevillejazzcollective.org

Soloist Christopher Senty

Chris Senty is a Senior pursuing a Bachelor of Music in Voice Performance and is currently the worship pastor at Bella Vista Community Church.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Stuart Scott

BSCompE 1988 MSCompE 1990 MBA 1994
Executive Vice President and CIO, J.B. Hunt Transport Services, Inc.

Stuart Scott is the executive vice president and chief information officer at J.B. Hunt Transport Services, Inc. and is responsible for engineering and technology for the company. Stuart leads the ongoing transformation of J.B. Hunt into a technology-driven supply chain solutions company.

Stuart came to J.B. Hunt from Tempur Sealy, where he served as chief information officer and led the upgrade of all business processes and information technologies across 26 countries with a single global platform, including the acquisition integration of Tempur's largest competitor. Prior to Tempur Sealy, Stuart served as the chief operating officer for TB&W financial services, including P&L and shared services responsibilities, managing $83 billion in assets. Stuart served as chief information officer, corporate vice president, and enterprise risk management leader at Microsoft Corporation, where he led all internal technologies and participated in new product development. Stuart started his career with General Electric in 1986 and held domestic and international engineering and technology leadership roles, including chief information officer for GE's consumer products, industrial and healthcare divisions. In addition, Stuart has led business development for a Silicon Valley startup and Initial Public Offering.

Stuart holds bachelor's and master's degrees in engineering, mathematics and computer science from the University of Louisville, as well as an MBA from Vanderbilt University.

Stuart worked with the University of Arkansas to establish the J.B. Hunt Innovation Center of Excellence in 2017. The center is a catalyst for research and development business models and new technologies that will disrupt the supply chain industry. Stuart currently serves on the Board of Advisors for the University of Arkansas and University of Louisville engineering colleges. He has been recognized with the distinguished Alumni Fellow award at University of Louisville and as Top CIO by numerous industry organizations and publications.

Stuart and his wife, Melanie, are active organizers and supporters for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention and make their home in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING HALL OF FAME

Established in 1965, the Hall of Fame is the highest honor bestowed by the College of Engineering at the University of Arkansas. The award recognizes prominent graduates and leaders who have made outstanding contributions to the engineering profession and to society as a whole. Members of the Hall of Fame have, throughout their careers, made a difference to the engineering profession and demonstrated concern for improving their communities. Their achievements have brought favorable attention to the College of Engineering, to the University of Arkansas and to the state of Arkansas.

The Hall of Fame is located on the third floor of Bell Engineering Center.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

- 1871 The University of Arkansas was established
- 1873 The first courses in civil engineering were offered
- 1888 The first civil engineering degree was awarded
- 1893 The College of Engineering was organized as a college of the university
- 1897 A separate civil engineering department was established
The Department of Electrical Engineering was established
- 1903 The Department of Mechanical Engineering was established
A chemical engineering curriculum was established in the Department of Chemistry
- 1920 The Engineering Experiment Station was established by the state legislature to investigate and study engineering problems of general interest to Arkansas
- 1925 The first master's degree in engineering was awarded
- 1945 Chemical engineering became part of the College of Engineering
- 1948 The Department of Agricultural Engineering was established
The Department of Industrial Engineering was established
- 1959 The Doctor of Philosophy degree was approved
- 1975 The Engineering Extension Center was formed to provide continuing education opportunities to practicing engineers
- 1976 A computer science engineering program was initiated within the industrial engineering department
- 1982 The college took possession of a deserted manufacturing plant that evolved into the Engineering Research Center
- 1985 Computer science engineering became a separate department
The Arkansas Center for Technology Transfer was established
- 1986 The Engineering Distance Education Center was created to offer off-campus engineering education
The GENESIS Technology Incubator was established
- 1989 Agricultural engineering became the Department of Biological and Agricultural Engineering
- 1991 The computer science engineering department became the Department of Computer System Engineering
- 1998 Computer systems engineering merged with the computer science department housed in the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences, creating the Department of Computer Science and Computer Engineering
- 2005 The chemical engineering department was named the Ralph E. Martin Department of Chemical Engineering
- 2012 Historic Engineering Hall, built in 1927, was renamed the John A. White Jr. Engineering Hall, in honor of the former chancellor.
- 2012 The Department of Biomedical Engineering was established

GUEST SPEAKER

John Furner
BSBA '86
CEO/President, Sam's Club

John Furner serves as president and chief executive officer of Sam's Club, a members-only warehouse club with over 100,000 associates and nearly 600 clubs throughout the U.S. and in Puerto Rico. Sam's Club is a division of Walmart, Inc., headquartered in Bentonville, Arkansas.

Since becoming president and CEO in 2017, Furner has implemented a transformation plan based on the three priorities of People, Product and Digital that is producing momentum throughout the business.

Furner started with Walmart as an hourly associate in 1993 and has held numerous roles in Walmart U.S., Sam's Club and Walmart International.

He most recently served as executive vice president and chief merchandising officer at Sam's Club. Prior to that, he served as chief merchandising and chief marketing officer of Walmart China, where he was over merchandising, procurement, marketing, supply chain, financial services and mobile commerce for the Hypermarket division.

Furner earned a bachelor of science in business administration in marketing from the Sam M. Walton College of Business at the University of Arkansas in 1996 and completed the High Potentials Leadership program.

A native Arkansan, Furner and his wife Brandy are active members of the northwest Arkansas community and the proud parents of four children.
